Winemaking

After a long family tradition of caring for our vineyards, in which we avoid using products that could harm the environment, we obtain grapes that are harvested during the night and fermented under controlled conditions in stainless steel tanks. To extract the maximum potential from the raw material, this wine remains for 6 months. After a minimum period of 6 months in the tank, bottling takes place. The result is a modern, long-lived, and well-balanced wine, characterized by the essence of the Verdejo variety.

Tasting Notes

Attractive yellow color with greenish hues. Clean and bright. High aromatic intensity on the nose, with tropical fruit aromas and citrus notes perfectly combined with herbal hints.

Structured and well-balanced on the palate. Fresh, with a long and fruity finish.
